

The Men of Harlech, Ceremonial March

This easy march is taken from a fifteenth century Welsh melody. It is the march of the Governor General's Horse Guard and the Royal Canadian Hussars.

Throughout their long history, the Pictish people who inhabit Wales have shown themselves resourceful and intimidating in battle. When Britain was invaded by the Romans, the ancestors of today's Welshmen painted themselves and fearlessly ran naked onto the battlefield. These "Wild Warriors" fought fiercely and were regarded as strong foes by the armoured Romans. In one case, Queen Boadicea led her band of Britons against a Roman force and very nearly won. Today, Wales is an independent country within the United Kingdom, and in everyday speech, many people there do not speak English.

"Men of Harlech" is a war song and should be played with strong, forceful rhythms. The dotted rhythms should be played detached, almost as if the shorter note preceding or following the dotted one were staccato. As this song was once used to rouse the troops going into battle, it should be played with lots of energy. Cambria, referred to at the end of the piece, is the Welsh name for Wales.

Lyrics:

Men of Harlech! In the hollow,
Do you hear, like rushing billow,
Wave on wave that surging follow
Battle's distant sound?
'Tis the tramp of Saxon foemen,
Saxon spearmen, Saxon bowmen,
Be they knights of hinds or yeomen,
They shall bite the ground!

Loose the folds asunder,
Flag we conquer under!
The placid sky, now bright on high,
shall launch its bolts in thunder!
Onward! 'Tis our country needs us.
He is bravest, he who leads us!
Honor's self now proudly heads us!
Cambria, God, and Right!

Rocky steeps and passes narrow
Flash with spear and flight of arrow.
Who would think of death or sorrow?
Death is glory now!
Hurl the reeling horsemen over!
Let the earth dead foemen cover!
Fate of friend, of wife, of lover,
Trembles on a blow!

Strands of life are riven;
Blow for blow is given
In deadly lock of battle shock,
And mercy shrieks to Heaven!
Men of Harlech! Young or hoary,
Would you win a name in story?
Strike for home, for life, for glory!
Cambria, God and Right!
